

Hub for Education and Language Diversity (HELD)
www.kcl.ac.uk/research/hub-education-and-language-diversity

Language, Education & Linguistic Citizenship

Three-day online summer school 2022
Wednesday 20th July to Thursday 21st July (10.00-16.00)

Application form

Personal details

Name
Address
Phone
Email

Current position

Organization
Department
Position

Prior training

Please describe training courses undertaken (200 words max).

Your interest in the summer school

Please let us know about your experience with multilingualism and education, and describe your reasons for applying to the summer school (200 words max).

Potential input to the summer school?

We would like to build some discussion of participants' own work/experiences into the event. So please indicate any project, experience or issue on which you would be willing to lead a discussion, together with a brief sketch of what the discussion could cover. (But please not that in the event, it is unlikely that there will be time to include all the possibilities). (200 words max).

Previous participation in HELD seminars?

This information will help us with planning the event.	Mark in bold as appropriate
Multilingual classrooms: Challenges & opportunities (Feb 2019)	Yes	No
Ideologies & beliefs about language and language education (June 2019)	Yes	No
Launch event for Brokering Britain, Educating Citizens (Nov 2019)	Yes	No
Sociolinguistics, participatory pedagogy and language education (Feb 2020)	Yes	No
Linking universities and 3 rd sector (& other) organisations (Feb 2021)	Yes	No
Migreat! conference (March 2022)	Yes	No
Sectors in language education (May 2022)	Yes	No

Deadline: 17th June 2022

Admission and selection criteria

Please note that we can't guarantee your enrolment, as spaces at the summer school are limited. We will give priority to people whose work seems to fit with our aims and who we think will most benefit from the summer school.

Fee: £30 (or £10 for full time students). Information on how to pay this will be provided if your application is successful.

Send your application to: Melanie Cooke melanie.cooke@kcl.ac.uk